ABOUT ME

I enjoy exploring both the creative and technical aspects of various pursuits. As a web developer and photographer, I delve into both the artistic and technical realms. I strive for excellence in both my personal life and professional career. Being a team player and an outgoing individual with an optimistic personality are traits that define me.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

BECK Digital: Photographer / Sr. Interactive Developer

2023 – 2024

I began as a Senior Interactive Developer, tasked with constructing WordPress websites infused with captivating interactive features. As the demand for photography grew within the company, I transitioned into a full-time Photographer role. Simultaneously, I supported our Marketing Director in internal marketing endeavors for BECK.

Crazy Stupid Smart: Sr. Web Developer

2022 – 2023

As a Senior Web Developer, I specialized in creating custom websites for clients using WordPress CMS, employing custom code and builder platforms like Elementor. Additionally, I contributed to other creative endeavors, including photography and animation, for social media content creation.

X-Agency: Interactive Director

2017 – 2022

Started in the role of Art Director and transitioned into both Lead Developer and then Interactive Director. I collaborate with our Creative Director/Assoc. Creative Director and Senior Brand Strategist in a leadership capacity to guide our team and clients toward exceptional experiences.

FishEye Studios: Lead Photographer

2016 – 2018

As the Lead Photographer, I managed both on-location and in-studio shoots, collaborating with art directors while also taking on the role of creative/art director for in-house projects. This dual responsibility honed my ability to seamlessly merge technical precision with creative vision, resulting in captivating visuals that consistently surpassed expectations.

North Greenville University: Photographer/Videographer

2015 – 2016

Provided both photography and video needs for the university and assisted in social media management/design with the Universities internal marketing team.

FUEL Marketing: Photographer/Video Producer

2014 – 2015

As the Lead Photographer, I managed both on-location and in-studio shoots, collaborating with art directors while also taking on the role of creative/art director for in-house projects. This dual responsibility honed my ability to seamlessly merge technical precision with creative vision, resulting in captivating visuals that consistently surpassed expectations.

Jackson Marketing Group: Video Producer

2011-2013

I collaborated with our video team to shoot, edit, and produce a diverse range of client videos, meeting various project requirements. Additionally, I contributed to live event production, overseeing the production of IMAG videos for screens at numerous conferences. Furthermore, I created a variety of motion graphics for client trade shows, video intros, outros, and more.
